Jeron Electronic Systems, Inc. Announces Corporate Headquarters Move to a Larger High-tech Facility

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Sept. 28, 2015 - NILES, IL -- In 1965, Jeron Electronic Systems began designing and manufacturing alerting and communication systems from the north side of Chicago. Jeron's communication systems are used for a variety of applications in parking ramps, schools, multi-story buildings, prisons, nursing homes and hospitals. Continued sales growth of Jeron systems, including the Provider® Nurse Call platforms, were the key drivers for the move to the new high-tech facility in nearby Niles, Illinois.

“We’ve really enjoyed all of our years at our North side of Chicago headquarters and look forward to this exciting new chapter for Jeron. The new larger office space will allow us to more easily host training courses, meetings, and end-user presentations. The new manufacturing and warehouse space will streamline our processes with ample space for future expansion of our production lines”, says Ericka Baran, Vice President of Sales and Marketing. Ericka continued, “After five decades of business, Jeron continues to grow both domestically and internationally while remaining an Illinois manufacturing proudly selling our ‘Made in the USA’ systems.”
