

Jeron's Provider[®] Nurse Call Surpassing Goals at Burgess Square Healthcare & Rehabilitation Center

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NILES, IL - July 31, 2018 - - Jeron Electronic Systems, Inc. announced today that their flagship communications solution, Provider[®] 790 Nurse Call System, has been installed in a local, Five Star, skilled care facility. Burgess Square Healthcare Center in Westmont, IL is a large 203-bed, Post-Acute Care Center. The Center is an independent, family-run business with day-to-day, hands-on management.

Jeron, located in the Chicagoland area, produces Provider[®] 790 Nurse Call Systems to leverage the latest communications technologies for fast alerting and clear resident to caregiver communications in healthcare. Jeron's strong partnerships with integrators and distributors leads them to work in tandem to service their mutual facilities. For this project, Jeron's local Distributor, Tech Electronics is working with the facility to install and service Provider Nurse Call Systems.

"Burgess Square leadership was so innovative and goal-oriented in what they expected from Provider. The system was designed as a team effort, which makes it helpful for Burgess Square staff and administration alike," said Mike Banach, from Tech Electronics.

With Provider 790 Nurse Call, Burgess Square can now benchmark important activities like call times, patient visits, and spot trends in care delivery. They will proactively monitor and simply address potential issues before affecting patient safety and satisfaction.

"We could have gone with a less feature-rich nurse call, but we went with Provider[®] 790 because we want a system to grow with us and will improve our already excellent care." Says COO of Burgess Square.

Another technology soon-to-be leveraged by clinicians is the 790 SIP integration which allow caregivers to use their own smart phones to provide proactive patient care, improve productivity and communication among staff. The mobility enables caregivers to stay in contact with residents and each other, ensuring the flow of critical communications.
