Jeron's Ready-to-Ship Emergency Nurse Call Systems Are Serving COVID-19 Facilities

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

April 6 – Niles, Illinois - With the immediate need to expand hospital beds and construct makeshift hospital facilities during the pandemic crisis, Jeron Electronic Systems, Inc. has kept their manufacturing operational and is able to provide critical communications to global facilities in need.

Jeron has already shipped several large nurse call systems to turn convention centers and similar temporary spaces into patient care facilities during this pandemic. Jeron is working with their local distributors, city and state agencies, and healthcare providers to quickly add mission critical nurse call alerting systems to these facilities.

Supporting these quick facility conversions, Jeron has a ready-to-ship Emergency Nurse Call packaged to add nurse call to these temporary locations. The Emergency Nurse Call system instantly alerts caregivers to routine and urgent calls from both patients and other staff throughout the nursing unit or even across the facility. Jeron's network of certified distributors remain open and able to assist with the installation process. If it is not possible for technicians to be on-site, the pre-packaged systems can be installed by anyone with basic electrical wiring knowledge.

In addition to pre-packaged Emergency Nurse Call, Jeron is ready to ship any of our nurse call lines with sales and installation through our local certified distributor network.

Jeron's Vice-President Sales & Marketing, Ericka Baran comments, "As professionals are hurrying to transform structures into much needed medical facilities during this crisis, patient and staff areas need to include critical patient-to-caregiver communications. Our expertise in this industry and our communication with frontline clinical staff tells us the system needed to be very durable and easy to operate and that's just what we've done. We will continue to work with these facilities when they are transitioning out of this crisis, our systems are readily scalable for their permanent structures."
